

Product Sheet

Adler shoe-making machine

Category: Industrial sewing machines

Adler 30-10/30-70 – Classic shoemaking machine

The Adler 30-10 is a robust industrial sewing machine made of cast iron with a long arm and rotating head, ideal for repairing shoes, bags and other leather items. It handles both thin and medium-thick materials with high precision and is a reliable choice for both small workshops and professional shoemakers.

- For repairing shoes, bags and leather items
- Available with foot drive or motor
- Robust cast iron construction

Product description

Adler shoe repair machine

The Adler 30-10 is a timeless industrial sewing machine with a long arm and rotating head, perfect for repairing shoes, bags and other hard-to-reach leather items. The machine is made of cast iron and is known for its robustness, durability and precision. It can handle both thin and medium-thick materials and is a reliable tool for both small workshops and professional shoemakers.

Available in two versions:

Class 30-10

Class 30-70

Description

- Long arm with rotating head for access in confined spaces
- Ideal for repairing shoes, bags and leather goods
- Available with foot drive (30-10) or motor (30-70)
- Robust cast iron construction for long life
- Can handle both thin and medium-thick materials

Technical Specification

Machine Specifications

• Machine type	1-needle straight stitch with rotatable head
• Application	Repair of shoes, bags and leather goods
• Operation	Foot pedal (30-10) or motor (30-70)
• Construction	Cast iron
• Material capacity	Thin to medium-thick materials